WALL RAISING CHALLENGE

WITH EVERY BUNDLE OF LUMBER BOUGHT during the Live Auction, another wall is raised, and with every wall, another home is built with a local family.

If we are able to buy 500 bundles of lumber this evening, we will be able to frame 20 Habitat homes with 20 families! Your generosity will help build healthy homes and healthy families, one bundle of lumber at a time!

Dear Friends,

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the ninth annual Hard Hat & Black Tie Dinner and Auction. Tonight we gather in a new location—The Loft at 8th Avenue—to celebrate and support the work of Habitat for Humanity Portland/Metro East.

We want to thank Vibrant Table for opening up their beautiful venue for us after the unexpected structural damage at the Portland Art Museum. That is the power of community coming together to support one another! This evening would also not be possible without our generous sponsors and donors. Thank you to those who graciously donated their time and money to help plan this special event.

Habitat for Humanity believes that everyone in the Portland Metro area deserves a decent place to live. We believe in the power of community to transform lives. That community starts with people just like you. With every paddle raised this evening, your generous support will help even more people build strength, stability, and self-reliance through affordable homeownership.

I hope you will join my peers on the Habitat board and me by giving generously tonight. We all have a special opportunity to significantly impact the lives of future generations.

In Partnership,

Julie Frantz, Board Chair
Habitat for Humanity Portland/Metro East

presenters

Drew Carney Emcee

Drew Carney joined KGW in Portland, Oregon, in September of 2006. He is an anchor on KGW News at Sunrise where his entertaining and community-minded reports can be seen every weekday.

Drew's television career began almost 20 years ago while attending college at Temple University in Philadelphia. After graduating from Temple, he started out as a sports anchor/reporter with stops in the smaller markets of Abilene, Texas and Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

In October of 2000, Drew moved to Portland and two years later made the switch from sports anchor to feature segment reporter. Since then, he's called the Pacific Northwest home. He's married to a born-and-raised Oregonian and they share a home just outside Portland with their twin boys.

Anthony & Family

We are honored to share Anthony's story this evening. All that Anthony desires is to provide his daughters with a stable upbringing and a safe place to lay their heads at night. It's something he's sought after for years while moving from one apartment to another in search of affordable rent. Now, he's secured a path for his family to live a more prosperous life by partnering with Habitat for Humanity.

"It's important for me to own a home for my kids," Anthony says. "Living in all these apartment complexes, you have to deal with a lot of stuff. Owning a home is more peaceful and it's your own."

As a Portland native, Anthony has seen his city change dramatically, as well. He watched as the African American community was slowly pushed from North and Northeast Portland out into "the numbers."

Once Anthony's home in North Portland is complete, he will rejoin an entire community returning to North Portland. For Anthony, it will mean he has come full circle: returning to the place he grew up and to raise his daughters in a home of their own.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY PORTLAND/METRO EAST believes in a world where everyone has a decent place to live. We help families build strength, stability, and self-reliance through homeownership right here in Portland. Every donation ensures a family has a foundation to build a future.

King & Queen's Table

Donated by Habitat for Humanity Portland/Metro East

Score the head table at next year's Hard Hat & Black Tie Dinner and Auction! You and 9 of your guests will sit at the most exclusive table in the room, and be treated like kings and queens. When you arrive, you'll experience express check-in before you take your seat of honor at a prominently placed table. There, you'll find even more surprises waiting for you including premium food and wine, sparkling wine for a special toast, upgraded table décor fit for royalty, and special gifts and party favors for each guest. This is a great way to show friends, family, and coworkers that they deserve the very best that the evening has to offer. Go ahead, live a little—we'll be waiting for you!
